CURING A COUGH.

When you have a cough, it is simply nature's warning that some of the organs of the system are not properly performing their work. In most cases, it will be found to be the liver When the liver or kidneys or perhaps both fail to properly perform their excretory functions, it is done in part by the mucous membrane This sends a discharge of mucous or phlegm into the throat lung and bowels, constipation follows, and the phlegm which should be ejected, remains until it is absorbed, thus poisoning the system A dry cough is a symptom of a disordered liver A physician's statement "In the treatment of lung and bronchial diseases the liver is often implicated to such an extent that a hepatic remedy becomes necessary in effecting a cure of the lungs In the treatment of such cases I prescribe Simmons Liver Regulator, prepared by J H Zeilin & Co, with entire satisfaction. I find that it acts mildly but effectually in regulating the secretions of the liver, kidneys and bowels"

A Sealing Steamer Lost off the Coast of Newfoundland.

A WRECK.

The Sealing Steamer Eagle Lost, with a Crew of Two Hundred and Fifty Men

ST JOHNS, N F, March 31.—A report has reached here of the total loss of the sealing steamer Eagle, with a crew of 250 men, on the shoals of Funk island off Bona Vista bay

The reported loss of the steamer Eagle is confirmed by the discovery of wreckage off Bona Vista bay The crew numbered 250 men, and there is nothing to show that anyone was saved The steamer was lost on the shoals near Funk island, off Bona Vista bay Debris comprising deck ladders forecastle deck and cooking gear, with steamer's name were found on the beach, and the inhabitants are looking for bodies Most of the lost seamen lived in and about St. Johns and the excitement and grief here is intense The Eagle was a large sealing steamer, commanded by Capt Jackman and owned by Messrs Bowring Bros

THE WRECK A SAD REALITY

BOSTON, March 31—A special to the Journal from St Johns, N F, says the steamer Eagle was last seen by the steamer Aurora on the night of the 11th instant, near Funks island A terrible sea was running at the time The next morning the Aurora could find no trace of the Eagle, and nothing has been seen of the ill fated vessel since A message from Greenspond, about 100 miles from here, says that light house keeper Cabot had boarded the sealing steamers Van Guard and Hector both of those vessels are reported passing Spars, forecastle and [illegible] of the Eagle have been found near the spot where she was last seen Light house keeper Cabot is a reliable man, and from his knowledge of affairs there, and the fact that the Eagle has not been seen since the 11th, while other vessels of the fleet have been seen every few days, it is universally believed that the vessel with the 250 souls on board was driven on the terrible reefs, so numerous inside of Funks island that the sea broke her up, and that she probably sank immediately with her fifty seamen on deck and 210 souls below The sea that swept the coast that night was the worst ever witnessed by old sailors on board of other vessels. No ship once getting in those terrible breakers could possibly escape Capt. Jackman, the commander of the ill-fated vessel, was considered to be the bravest skipper Newfoundland ever produced, and he was called the "king of the sealing fleet" until 1885, when, for the first time in his experience, he failed to secure any seals Last year bad luck again overtook him and he lost the steamer Resolute near the same fatal island, but his crew escaped Late in the same year he took command of the Eagle, and within a few weeks she broke her shaft. She was refitted and a month ago started with the rest of the fleet on what is now felt was her last voyage A majority of the crew are married and residents of this city and vicinity, and all in the prime of life. The city is in mourning to-day This is the greatest calamity and most frightful loss in the modern history of this unfortunate colony.

THIEVING POSTAL CLERK.

Attempted Stealing of a $10,000 Package from the First National Bank of Portland

NEW YORK, March 31—At an early hour on Wednesday morning the superintendent of the pouch room at the regular division of the New York postoffice was surprised at the discovery that a package which had arrived late Tuesday night in pouch No 600 from Portland, Or, containing $10,000 in currency, was missing He had checked the package off some time before, and he could not imagine where it could have gone to, as no one was in the office except the clerks, 180 in number The superintendent telegraphed for Inspector Dosser, and detained the clerks until Dosser arrived Dosser took the clerks to his office, and as his subordinates were away, he sent for George F Bangs, of the Pinkerton agency, to come and help him The clerks were examined one at a time, and the examination continued all day, through the night and until nearly morning Suspicion pointed in the direction of Wm A Clark, a clerk who has been in the department for about five years, and he was examined last. For a long time there have been robberies in the department, and over sixty packages and letters have been stolen, the inspectors being unable to trap the thief Clarke is a married man and lives in Brooklyn. He was accused of stealing several of these packages, but he stoutly denied his guilt At noon to-day Inspector Adsit made another search of the registry office and found the package secreted beneath some rubbish in the bottom of a closet. It was from the First National bank of Portland, Oregon and was addressed to the Chemical National bank of this city It was delivered to the bank office and the contents found intact. The inspector had Clarke locked in a room with him and told him that the package had been found and that they had enough evidence to convict him for theft, and even then Clarke would not acknowledge that he had taken it. Finally in the afternoon he called Inspector Dosser to him and told him that he had stolen the package, and that he had also stolen the other sixty packages that had been missing from time to time for the past three years and said he committed the theft to pay his debts He was addicted to drinking and had gambled some He could not say how much he had stolen, but it is supposed that he has taken between $100 and $[illegible] Clarke, after making the confession was taken to Ludlow street jail He will have an examination to-morrow before the United States commissioner

THE HADDOCK MURDER TRIAL

Testimony in the Trial of the Alleged Murderers of the Minister

SIOUX CITY, March 31—The report at noon that the state's case was ended for the time and that the defence would begin with its evidence in the afternoon added fresh interest to the proceedings, but could add no greater number to the packed courtroom. Policeman Wm A. Smith testified that he saw Bismarck the night of the [illegible] at the corner of Douglas and Fourth streets drunk, and told him to go home This was about midnight, and after the killing of Haddock Adolph Metz was the next witness and testified that he met Bismarck about [illegible] o'clock August [illegible], as he (Bismarck) was coming out of Herman's saloon He next saw Bismarck about 1 o'clock in the morning, very drunk on the sidewalk near his home, where he remained about an hour He saw him again [illegible] o'clock in the morning when he was partially sobered up and said he had not been home that night The witness was cross examined but nothing of special interest was developed Wm Metz, father of the last witness testified that Bismarck asked for admittance to his house at a very early hour on the morning of the [illegible]th of August. Oscar Britewell, [illegible], was next sworn He testified that he saw Bismarck at 10 [illegible] on the night of August [illegible] at the corner of Fourth and Douglass streets that he was at the scene of the killing which happened about twenty minutes after [illegible] It was [illegible] after this when he [illegible] Bismarck [illegible] was very drunk to go home. THE O. R. & N. LEASE.

Important News from New York and Boston on the Negotiations

NEW YORK, March 31—The Mail and Express says to-night "The lease of the Oregon Railway & Navigation, though approved by the Union Pacific stockholders, has not yet been signed, and it has yet to be perfected President Elijah Smith is reported as anxious to dispose of the Oregon & Transcontinental holdings, and there are several details yet to be arranged. The story now is that some arrangements for the trust will be devised, but the stockholders will be assured 6 per cent for ninety nine years"

ANOTHER DISPATCH

BOSTON, March 31—The Traveller says The report that the Oregon Navigation company's lease has been signed, which was current yesterday, and emanated from good sources, is officially denied to-day The lease is in practically completed form with only a few minor details to perfect and its final execution will in all probability be accomplished in New York some time next week President Adams will be over there all week, and several important conferences will be held In this connection it should be stated that the lease is on a [illegible] per cent basis instead of [illegible]

THE COMMISSIONERS ORGANIZE

Judge Cooley Elected Chairman of the Interstate Commission

WASHINGTON, March 31—About 11 o'clock this morning Messrs Cooley, Morrison Schoonmaker and Walker, of the interstate commerce commission, called at the White house and paid their respects to the president. Commissioner Bragg did not arrive in the city in time to go with them but called at the White house shortly afterward and then joined his associates at Willard's hotel, where an informal gathering took place to enable the members to become better acquainted with one another At 3 o'clock the commissioners met by agreement at the interior department, where their commissions were handed to them and the prescribed oaths of office administered

On motion of Col. Morrison Judge Cooley was selected as chairman of the commission. This action was unanimous, and was taken without discussion, the members having all come to the conclusion that Judge Cooley was the best fitted for the position The commission then proceeded to the temporary quarters selected for them in the Howe building, on F street, just below the Ebbitt house, and after an inspection of the rooms they parted, with the understanding that another meeting would be held to-morrow for consultation No candidates for the secretaryship of the commission were proposed and that latter position is still in abeyance

Prior to the selection of Judge Cooley as chairman of the committee, Messrs. Morrison, Bragg and Schoonmaker, the three democratic members, held a conference at which it was decided that, in view of Judge Cooley's long experience and eminence as a judge and in order to demonstrate to the country that it was their object to promote harmony and unanimity in the board, Col Morrison should propose and Mr Bragg second Judge Cooley's nomination as chairman

The first business that will come before the board after its organization will be the fixing of the time and place for the hearing of questions to be submitted by Mr Smith, vice president of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and Virgil Powers, general commissioner of pool rates for the Southern Railway and Steamship company These questions relate to the long and short haul provision of the interstate commerce law as it applies to railways of the Mississippi river south of the Ohio and west of the Potomac.

FROM SEATTLE

A Man Arrested between Seattle and Port Townsend for Smuggling

SEATTLE, March 31—C L Terry, customs inspector, yesterday seized a trunk belonging to a passenger on board the steamer North Pacific, between Victoria and Port Townsend Upon making examination twenty five pounds of opium were found in the false bottom of the trunk When the steamer arrived at Seattle the prisoner was taken before U S Commissioner Eben Smith for examination, who pleaded guilty, and bail was fixed at $150, which, under the circumstances, was thought sufficient. In default of the amount he was turned over to the U S marshal to await the action of the grand jury By request of customs officers his name is not made public The value of the opium is about $225

JAIL BREAKERS

It is reported on good authority that the county jail is minus two prisoners One named Kelly, we are informed, escaped more than a week ago The other, named Walsh, skipped last Saturday Our informant stated that both these men escaped while doing work about the court house in custody of the jailer These are culprits who were recently sent up for thirty days and $100 costs for the larceny of a gold watch from the New England hotel. Perhaps this may explain the recent burglarious attentions paid Eben Smith, Judge Greene and others.

CONVICTED OF SMUGGLING

Mr F S Bangs, son of J B Bangs, at one time a police officer in Seattle, was arrested in Alaska on a charge of smuggling At the recent term of court held in Sitka he was convicted and sentenced to two years hard labor in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5000 Inasmuch as there is no United States prison in Alaska, it is almost certain that Mr Bangs will be sent to prison on McNeil island, in this territory to serve his sentence.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS

Mr D A. Turner and several other parties interested with him have purchased from H L Yesler, the property on the corner of Mill and Second streets, now occupied by the Lake Union furniture company The lot fronts 120 feet on Mill street, and 120 feet on Second street The price paid was $26,000 The purchasers expect to make arrangements to build a fine brick block on part of the lot this year It will be their interest to improve that corner as soon as possible

OPIUM DEN PROPRIETOR

The trial of Lee Backonstos, for keeping an opium joint, occurred last evening before Justice [illegible] Lee pleaded not guilty, but the justice held him over in the sum of $25 to await the action of the grand jury He was taken in charge by the sheriff and lodged in the Hotel [illegible] The young woman Gertie Lewis, who was found in the house by the officers, was put under $100 bonds as a witness in the case

About 3 o'clock this morning the residence of Mr W H. Cowie, in south Seattle, was entered by burglars Mr Cowie was aroused by a dog, and going down stairs found the parlor window open He got a revolver and waited for their return, which they did in a few minutes He fired at them at a distance of about twenty feet, but could not tell whether he hit either of them or not

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

FUNERAL OF HON WM. SMITH

VICTORIA, March 31—The public funeral accorded the remains of the deceased premier Hon Wm Smith took place this morning The [illegible] attending the event were of an imposing character, the governors, ex governors, many members of the dominion and provincial parliaments, many prominent citizens and the military being in the procession Business generally was suspended and there was mourning during the progress of the cortege [illegible] the late premier's home and interred in the family burying ground

[illegible] Alaskan papers bring intelligence that the abandoned mail has been recovered and brought to Juneau News is very scarce of rich coarse gold creeks having been discovered Many miners are proceeding [illegible] On Forty Mile creek entering into the latter, the best gold was discovered Provisions are scarce

Reports were received that eight whites had trouble with Indians and the former were all killed A broken boat discovered on the shore of the river with food in another quarter, leads to the conclusion that its crew were drowned

F L Bange, the smuggler sentenced by Judge Dawson, has had hard lines. His boat with smuggled liquor was captured He previously stole cached goods belonging to an Indian chief which he had to disgorge, getting three months and paying the Indian for the loss of time and using $1000 A former cargo of smuggled liquor was stolen by a vagrant employed Now this is seized and he gets a term in prison.

ASSAULT TO KILL

A Correspondent of the Seattle "Post" Shoots the Editor of the Tacoma "News"

TACOMA, March 31—This afternoon, between 1 and 2 o'clock, S. W. Wall, Tacoma correspondent of the Seattle Post Intelligencer, entered the office of the Tacoma News and inquired for H. E Harcourt, editorial writer on that paper W. A. Berry, one of the proprietors, directed Wall to another room, opened the door and pointed the editor out, who was sitting at his desk writing, Wall entered, introduced himself and asked if this was Mr Harcourt The latter replied in the affirmative, when Wall said that he had come in to shoot him (Harcourt.) The editor made a laughing reply, and Wall again reiterated his statement, saying that he would kill him, and "that if he had any preparation to make, to make them" The editor rose, and as he did so Wall drew a 22 calibre revolver from his pocket and fired The bullet struck Harcourt in the breast, passed through his coat and vest, and was stopped by a steel tongue on his cravat. R P Boise, local editor, who was at another desk, jumped to his feet, and at the same instant Wm McIntyre, the foreman, rushed in from an adjoining room and assisted by Boise grappled Wall and attempted to take his pistol away In the scuffle the pistol was again discharged, the bullet entering the fleshy part of Boise's thumb, shattering the bone Wall was disarmed and he then ran down stairs, followed by Berry, striking at him with a window shade roller, the first weapon at hand Wall was arrested and committed to jail in default of $10,000 bail.

The cause of the trouble is as follows The News had been attacking Wall as a correspondent for several days, and an item in last evening's News, alleged to be a reflection on the domestic affairs of Wall, led to the shooting Harcourt recently arrived here from Lisbon, D T, and is a man of middle age Wall is a young man about 35, and is a well known journalist The only man injured is Boise, from a bullet wound in the hand, and Wall, from abrasions received in the affray

There had been a fight in the News on Wall, as a correspondent, but a paragraph in last evening's paper which is the cause of the shooting, is as follows

Spokane is also after a cheerful liar This man went to Spokane, resided there with a woman of questionable repute, between whom and him [illegible] there was no [illegible], but a pistol marriage and after beating the town as long as he could left it to misrepresent and malign it We sympathize with Spokane We know how it is ourselves

THE LEDGER

AN ACCOUNT FROM THE "NEWS."

TACOMA, March 31—At 2 o'clock this afternoon Samuel W Wall entered the business room of the News office, pale in the face, deliberate in manner, suave in expression. He inquired of W A Berry, one of the proprietors, for Mr Harcourt, the editor, who was in the editorial room. Being directed to the latter gentleman, who was seated at his table writing, Wall, who did not personally know him, asked if his name was Harcourt On receiving an affirmative reply, he said "I have come up to kill you" Harcourt, supposing it was all a joke, replied that he hardly thought he meant that. "Yes," said Wall, "I have come here to shoot you. If you have any preparations to make, you had better make them" Harcourt rose from his seat and Wall at once fired from a 22-calibre pistol. The ball struck Harcourt's breast over the heart, penetrating his coat and vest, and glancing from the steel lined cord of his necktie. R P Boise, Jr city editor, jumped from a seat opposite and grabbed Wall. A second shot followed hitting Boise in the fleshy part of the thumb of the right hand, shattering the bone, and lodging at the base of the forefinger The ball was extracted by surgeons. After the shooting, Berry, the business manager, knocked Wall down and afterwards chased him into the street belaboring him with a small curtain roller, the only weapon he found handy The crowd separated the combatants, who were placed under arrest. Berry was released and Wall was jailed. Subsequently, in a justice court, bail was demanded in $10,000, in default of which Wall was committed to the county jail. The cause of the shooting was controversies in print, growing out of the News' defense of Tacoma against Wall's slander in the Post Intelligencer, of which paper he was the Tacoma correspondent.

THE NEWS

ANOTHER STATEMENT OF THE AFFRAY

[The following dispatch is inspired by the Post Intelligencer and gives Wall's side of the case.]

SEATTLE, March 31—At 2 o'clock P M, S W Wall special correspondent of the Post Intelligencer at Tacoma, entered the News office at that place and demanded of the editor Harcourt, the retraction of a personal assault on his wife's honor made in that paper Wednesday evening The retraction being refused, Mr Wall drew a 22-caliber revolver and shot at Harcourt The bullet struck just over the heart, penetrating the coat and vest and glancing on a steel lined pendant of his neck tie City Editor Boise and Foreman McIntyre jumped on Wall, when the revolver was again discharged, the ball striking Boise on the thumb shattering the bone and lodging near the base of the forefinger Wall was then set upon and badly beaten. He was taken in charge by the sheriff, awaiting examination

CAUSE OF THE SHOOTING

The attacks upon Wall in the News during the past few days have been bitterly personal. On Thursday the following appeared,

The Post Intelligencer this morning is called upon to bolster up the veracity of Mr Wall, that paper's attache in this city Well, inasmuch as the probate judge of this county found it necessary to come out in an open letter and deny as absolutely false, statements made by Mr Wall as Chaplain Stubbs, in a letter to the SUNDAY OREGONIAN, found it necessary to pronounce certain articles written by Mr Wall regarding particulars of evangelistic visits to houses of ill fame in Tacoma untrue and unworthy of decent journalism, remarking, in his letter that the Post Intelligencer correspondent is a seeker after the sensational and not of the truthful as two of our citizens unacquainted with Mr Wall's [illegible] of lying journalism, nearly came to [illegible] remarks falsely reported [illegible] who, when learning the truth decided to forever after bar their doors against the [illegible] as Mr Pope Cox, agent for the American electric light, was compelled in self defense, to inform this fabricator of [illegible] here, that if he did not cease his lies concerning him he would walk around on his alleged [illegible] as Mr T J Nixon one of our reliable citizens found it necessary to publish a card denouncing as false statements attributed to him by Mr Wall, and as our chamber of commerce was compelled to call a special meeting and denounce, as a miserable falsehood, the slander written by the Post Intelligencer correspondent and scattered over the country over we say, inasmuch as these denials of the man's veracity have occurred in the past few weeks something is really necessary to be done to bolster up and broaden that ever speck of veracity Mr Wall may have. The Post Intelligencer will find it a hard business to secure, among people acquainted with him the slightest confidence in Mr Wall His truth and veracity have no standing hereabouts.

On Wednesday (the day before the shooting) the News contained, besides the paragraph above quoted the following reference to Wall

To completely understand the cause of the present seeming unpleasantness existing hereabouts it is necessary to explain that toward the the latter part of 188[illegible] a party by the name of Wall, with others, engaged in the publication of a newspaper here called the Telegram The paper was established for the sole purpose of injuring the News, but the business men of the city were satisfied with this paper, refused to give the new publication their support, and after a month's precarious existence the journal died. This so angered this Mr Wall that he was in fit condition to say or write anything irrespective of facts or foundation, derogatory to Tacoma and her people In this frame of mind he was picked up by the Seattle Post Intelligencer, a paper which had long been seeking for just such an individual The day on which he became connected with that publication marked the beginning of the journalistic defamation of everything and anything pertaining to Tacoma. Knowing the man the citizens of this city paid no attention to his fluent flow of lies

THE STATE CAPITAL

A SUPREME COURT DECISION

SALEM, March 31—The judgment of the lower court in the case of Weller, respondent, vs H[illegible], appellant was this morning affirmed in the supreme court. The respondent commenced an action in the circuit court of Multnomah county against the appellant to recover the sum of $400 alleged to be due upon a written guaranty executed by him to the respondent [illegible] On March 1 1886 respondent leased certain premises in Portland to Edward Martin for [illegible] and two-thirds months at $250 per month payable monthly in advance and the appellant guaranteed the payment of $200 per month during the whole period also payable monthly in advance The rent for November and December, 1886, being due and unpaid, plaintiff, after due notice and demand, sued the guarantor for $400 The case was decided in favor of the plaintiff in the lower court, and appealed to the supreme court. It is held by the latter that by the terms of the guaranty the defendant's agreement was direct, and that a failure to pay according to its terms was a breach of his agreement, for which an action would lie without any showing as to notice, or of Martin's insolvency or failure to pay

THE SMALLPOX CANARD

Two competent physicians went down to the Hazel Green school district to-day and examined the supposed case of smallpox. Upon their return they reported that they had found the plainest kind of a case of intermittent fever and that the fears of the people of that vicinity were groundless. The same physician, who first declared the case to be smallpox, also hunted up a diseased Chinaman here and reported him to the marshal as having the smallpox. Marshal Ross examined the Mongolian and found him suffering with a disease common to Chinamen.

Officers are on the lookout for him

THE POSTMASTER'S TRIAL

CORNER IN COAL

Speculators are in a Position to Dictate the Price of Coal

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31—The coal market is booming Prices have advanced rapidly within the past few days and offers of 75 cents and $1 per ton over the rates that prevailed two months ago on products of English and Australian mines are invariably refused by dealers In sympathy with this movement quotations in coal from the northern collieries have advanced sharply Local dealers predict a still further rise in English coal, and not a few believe that in two or three months hence the dearth of the best steam and family coal will cause much inconvenience to manufacturers and steamship companies In consequence dealers are in exuberant spirits and may have cleared a good round sum of money on account of the rise in price. The stiffness in the market was foreseen by a few long headed speculators who have not been slow to profit by it. There is not a single cargo that is held by consignees' it having been sold to dealers Before July 1 about thirty vessels, carrying in all about 75,000 long tons, will arrive Fourteen of these cargoes are consigned to J D Spreckels & Bros, who have reserved seven for their own use The others, twenty three in number are likewise in the hands of dealers Having secured control of all English and Australian coal in the city and in sight, speculators are in a position to dictate to consumers. Their plans are materially aided by the great reluctance on the part of ship owners to send any more vessels to this port on account of the slim prospects of return charters and the ruinously low rates that are ruling Owing to the depression in wheat freights agents have advanced freight rates of vessels to come here to such high figure that but few if any cargoes are leaving either England or Australia to come to this city In consequence all foreign coal will become scarce although not for three or four months to come To make up the deficiency many deep-water ships have been chartered at [illegible] rates to bring coal from northern mines before the new wheat crop is ready and for once in the history of the state there is more tonnage in port under disengaged charters than there is to load wheat

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1887.

THE WOOL PROBLEM.

In a long article the East Oregonian shows the injustice of the heavier charge on wool from points in Eastern Oregon to the Eastern states than from Portland to the same destination,—an injustice that seems more glaring to the Eastern Oregon wool grower from the fact that much of the wool has first been hauled from that section of country down to Portland and then trundled back on its way East past the stations from which it was originally shipped. All this will now end, however, under the interstate commerce bill. Wool can no longer be shipped from Portland to the East, by rail, at lower rates than from points in the interior, and the thing against which the Pendleton paper makes its protest is already at an end.

And yet the interstate law has brought about conditions that for the present, at least, are far worse for the wool grower than those about which this vigorous complaint is so justly made. It is apparent that the railroads, before they make a rate on wool, are going to study the subject on all its possible sides, with a view of adopting a policy that will get out of the traffic as nearly as possible all it will bear. Our shipping points, Pendleton, Arlington and The Dalles, will now no longer have so much reason to complain about the rate that Portland will get as about the rate that may be made for points in Idaho, Montana, Utah, Wyoming and Colorado and Dakota; for the rates made for those points will govern the rates for all points further west, and the roads will charge the wool growers of Montana, Idaho, etc., more than our wool growers have been accustomed to pay. The result will be that it will cost more to carry our wool to market than heretofore, and the loss will come out of the wool grower.

This is the present situation. And yet we hope for some adjustment, through interposition of the commissioners, which will raise this embargo upon the movement of our wool. The fear is that it will continue till there will be great losses on the part of flock owners, as well as on the part of those who have made advances on the wool clip of the year.

What the Pendleton paper now calls for is interposition by the interstate commission to prevent Portland from getting lower rates than towns of Eastern Oregon. But this is already secured. Those towns can now ship wool to the east just as cheap as Portland can, but not so cheap as they could before the old arrangement was broken.

THE CHOLERA.

Our dispatches announce that the cholera has reached Panama and that the health authorities of Texas are taking precautions against its introduction into that state from Mexico, whose railway connections with the United States form a naturally rapid and dangerous line for the march of this dread disease. This movement of the cholera originally appeared in Buenos Ayres, where it still prevails. From Buenos Ayres it worked westward. Throughout February the daily mortality in the city of Rosario was from 60 to 100, and 70 per cent. of the cases were fatal. At Tucuman, in the northern part of the Argentine Republic, there were some days as many as 500 cases, but Mendoza, on the eastern slope of the Andes, suffered more severely. From Mendoza the disease crossed the Andes to Chili, the first case appearing on the 26th of December last. The mortality has been very great in the city of Santiago, where 60 per cent. of the cases proved fatal, and several cases were reported at Valparaiso on the coast. There is a large grain trade between Chili and England, and wherever these vessels touch they are likely to carry disease, even if Peru and Bolivia escaped. In some way, at all events, the disease has reached Panama, and from thence it is likely to reach Mexico. From Mexico it will be remarkable if it does not reach the ports of California and Texas. If it reaches Texas it will go to New Orleans, and from New Orleans advance up the Mississippi and along the seacoast of the South. If the health authorities of the United States are on the alert there is no reason to apprehend that the cholera will get any serious foothold in our country, but timely precautions need to be taken and sternly enforced. The ravages of the yellow fever a few years ago in New Orleans, Meridian and Memphis are proof of what destruction such diseases work if they once gain foothold in a good feeding ground.

FARMS EAST AND WEST.

According to the latest report of the department of agriculture at Washington, there are now about five million farms in the United States. The number has increased one million since 1880. Average size of farms in New York in 1880 was 99 acres; in Pennsylvania 93 acres; in Ohio 99 acres; in Michigan 90 acres; in Illinois 124 acres, and in Kentucky 105 acres. There has been considerable decrease in the size of farms since 1850, particularly in the older states; but this decrease latterly has not been so rapid as might have been expected. Thus in New York the average size of farms in 1860 was 106 acres, against 99 acres in 1880, and in Illinois 146 acres in 1860 against 124 acres in 1880. The greatest reduction of the size of farms is in the cotton states.

It has usually been supposed that the farmers of the older states were much less in debt than those of the newer ones; but recent inquiries show that this is not the case. Thus, in New York, 20 per cent. of the farms are mortgaged, though money is as low as 5 per cent. per annum. Decrease of railway rates and rapid transportation from the West has been effecting a steady decrease in the profits of Eastern farms, and the low prices of produce are not only especially discouraging to the Eastern farmers who are in debt, but make it quite certain that in many cases they will never be able to pay out.

WAR ON THE WHISKY TAX.

The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph denounces the internal revenue tax on whisky as "a war tax; an unnecessary tax; a tax that will take $100,000,000 from the business of the country in the next year and retire it as a surplus." The Telegraph closes its [illegible] with some very warm rhetoric. We quote [illegible]:

It has [illegible] monopoly, whose [illegible] party's throat; a [illegible] before it will [illegible] it is at the [illegible] last decade, and it still threatens the manufacturing interests of the land, and will threaten it as long as it remains.

This is the indictment we bring, and we count that man of the South a traitor to his people and a public enemy who would perpetuate the infamous internal revenue tax. It is useless to mouth words on such a subject. If these people want to continue their alliance with the whisky ring they are free to do so, but judge them by their attitude toward the internal revenue. No man who favors this direct and dangerous system can be a democrat. No defender of the whisky ring can be a friend of the South. Though it rend our people in twain, let the line be drawn.

If the South generally sympathizes with this view, it would seem as if Randall, who seeks to wipe out the internal revenue taxes, in order to give the people free whisky and tobacco, which they don't need, instead of giving them cheap necessaries of life, ought to lead the Southern democracy instead of Carlisle.

It seems probable to us, from statements submitted by Revs. Thompson and Skidmore of Vancouver, that Mrs. Emma Molloy is not guilty of participation in the murder in Missouri with which her name has been connected. From numerous statements and documents concerning her which have been submitted to us, we conclude that she is a foolish kind of woman, with great gift of tongue, gushing with silly humanitarianism; an exponent of the weakly sentimental side of Christianity; a "reformer" who can produce a sensation anywhere among those who are not very well founded in the principles of steady and saving common sense, and who are easily carried into raptures by one who has the gift of hysterical utterance. She appears to be one of those peripatetic reformers and revivalists in whose hands morality is divorced from reason and religion from judgment; yet among those who worship the "evangelist" who can excite their emotions, or rather who can stir their palpitations, such as she will always find an audience. But they who have the power of doing real and permanent good don't tramp the continent on these expeditions. Some community finds their value and keeps them. The very fact that Mrs. Molloy can't stay in one place any length of time shows the ephemeral nature and little value of her "work." Every person of well-balanced judgment feels instinctively that such "work" has a merely sensational and histrionic character, or lower still, that it is harlequinade.

The opinion recently given by the United States supreme court in the drummer tax case arose under a statute of Tennessee requiring all drummers in Memphis to pay ten dollars a week or twenty-five dollars a month for the privilege of selling by sample in that city. This law applied to Tennessee drummers as well as to those from other states. The United States supreme court in this case has decided that no state has the power to exact a license from traveling salesmen resident of other states, nor to impose a tax upon the sales made by them, even when the license is exacted from or the tax is levied on its own citizens. The court held this to be an interference with and a burden upon interstate commerce in violation of the federal constitution which vests in congress the power to regulate commerce between the states. The court says that if a state may levy a tax upon the citizens of another state for selling goods it may make the tax prohibitory and thereby shut out all trade from any other state.

The New York state railroad commission has reported to the legislature in favor of the entire abolishment of car stoves and heaters on railways and the substitution of steam or hot air pipes connecting with the locomotive or an independent car. Of the practicability of thus heating railway trains the committee has no doubt where the trains do not exceed seven cars. Concerning its applicability to longer trains the commission says:

> Under the directions of the board, its inspector asked in each case of engineers and master mechanics, "With a train of twelve or fourteen cars and the engine working her full power, could you, without detriment to your engine or loss of time, heat your train with steam from your boilers?" He reports that the answer was almost universally, "We believe we can, but prefer actual experience before saying much on that subject." Each inventor and his friends insist that it can be done under his system, and hence that failure to adopt that system at once is almost criminal.

Of Sherman's Southern tour Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, spoke the other day as follows:

> I believe it would be a great thing for the whole country, and for the democratic party in particular, to break up the Solid South and cease to elect presidents and congresses on sectional lines. It is coming as sure as the sun shines. Look at Virginia with her six republican congressmen out of eight. North Carolina is trembling on the verge of political revolution; Tennessee doesn't dare go out after dark for fear of finding the house occupied by some stranger on her return; Alabama is filling up with Northern people and is bound to be a protection state. All these things point to a new era in American politics, and I welcome the day of its advent. If Mr. Sherman can do anything in his next week's tour to prepare the people of the South for the reception of new ideas or make them believe that the old ones are dead and buried, he will be doing a great work.

Examination of tables of the wheat product of the world for the year 1886 shows some results that may surprise those who hitherto have not given the comparative wheat production of the principal countries special attention. The United States, of course, is at the head of the list, its product being put at 457,000,000 bushels. France follows next, with 299,000,000 bushels, and India next, with 250,000,000 bushels. Russia is fourth, with 213,000,000. How many persons, if asked to name the wheat-growing countries in their order of production, would place Russia below France and India? That France, which is scarcely larger than California, yields so much wheat in addition to her other enormous products of agriculture, is an incident that helps to give an idea of the prodigious extent of her industry, and therefore of the causes of her surprising thrift and prosperity.

The congressional record of Samuel J. Randall, which reaches back to December, 1861, is not that of a statesman. He opposed the civil rights bill and the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments; he voted for the retroactive salary grab of 1866 and the second salary grab bill of 1873, and opposed the repeal of both acts; he opposed the civil service reform act; he voted against the bill for the resumption of specie payments; he favored the Bland silver dollar bill; he has always voted against reducing the tariff taxes on coal and salt; he voted for the pauper pension bill and voted to pass it over the veto, and has tried to repeal the internal revenue taxes on whisky and tobacco—luxuries that ought to carry a heavy tax, in order to prevent any reduction of the present onerous taxes on the primitive necessaries of life.

The men who passed the interstate commerce bill assured themselves joyfully that they had legislated the railroad pool out of existence. What they appear to have done, says the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, is to raise it to the rank of assured importance, and to perpetuate it as a necessary part of all railroad management in the future.

Col. A. F. Walker, of the interstate commerce commission, is described by the New York Times as "not a Blaine republican but he voted the ticket." Col. Walker's sponsor, Senator Edmunds, is "not a Blaine republican but he voted the ticket" and Judge Cooley is a mugwump republican who voted for Cleveland.

The last bond call of $10,000,000 reduces the amount of 3 per cent. bonds to $19,000,000, which will all be called by the 20th of June. This will carry the department nearly up to the beginning of the new fiscal year, it is believed, without any great strain on account of the accumulation of surplus.

The Southern democrats believe in more silver and in inflation in all shapes; so do the democrats of the West, and so, we are sorry to say, [illegible] do the republicans of Iowa, Colorado, Nevada and the Pacific coast.

WATER RATES REDUCED.

The Committee Announce a New Schedule Going into Effect To-Day.

A Bill for Damages not Paid—The Residents of "Nob" Hill Petition for a Better Supply—Other Business.

A special meeting of the water committee was held yesterday afternoon, Chairman Failing presiding; present Messrs. Corbett, Dekum, Fleishner, Ladd, Lewis, Loewenberg, Reed, Richardson, F. C. Smith and W. K. Smith and Clerk Schuyler. The minutes of a meeting of the sub-committee held last Monday were read and spread upon the records. The principal points of this meeting were a petition from the residents of Taylor street between Twelfth and Fourteenth asking for better service, which was referred to the engineer for examination and report; the question of creating a commission at this time as provided by the act, and the consideration of Beno & Co.'s bill for damages. The bill was referred to the general committee without recommendation.

A BILL DISALLOWED.

This bill was the first business brought up before the general committee and the following opinion from the city attorney was read:

> To the Water Committee—Gentlemen: I have been requested by your auditing committee to submit an opinion as to the liability of the city of Portland, or the water committee, for the damages alleged to have been sustained by Messrs. M. Beno & Co. to their stock of merchandise by reason of the bursting of one of the water mains connected with the water works under the control of the committee.
>
> The city of Portland would not, in my opinion, be liable at all, in any event, for the injuries complained of. The only question then is as to what extent the committee would be liable, and what circumstances would make it liable to respond in damages for injuries like those complained of in this case. Certain duties have been imposed by law upon the committee, which it has undertaken to discharge, and it is bound to bring to the discharge of those duties the exercise of due care and diligence. It is the duty of the committee to select suitable and competent agents and employes; to select and use proper pipe and material, and to exercise due care and skill in laying the pipe and mains and keeping the same in proper repair. Any negligence or carelessness on the part of the committee in the discharge of their duties, or in fact any ministerial duty imposed upon it by the act creating the committee and providing for the purchase or construction of waterworks, resulting in injury to persons or property, would, in my judgment, render the committee liable.
>
> So the question in this particular case is as to whether the damages claimed by M. Beno & Co. were occasioned by the negligence or carelessness of the committee, its officers or agents. If so, then it is liable; if not so, then it is not liable.
>
> If the committee knew that the main was defective, or out of repair, and failed to repair it within a reasonable time, or if it had notice through any of its members, or any of its officers or agents, that the main was leaking, in time to have shut off the water and prevent the injury, and failed to do so, that would be such negligence as would render the committee liable for the injuries resulting from such failure.
>
> On the other hand, if the committee did not know that the main was defective, or out of repair, and could not with reasonable diligence have discovered that it was, and had no notice of the leak or bursting of the main before the injury occurred, then there would not be negligence.
>
> Whether there was such negligence or not the committee can best determine for itself, as there are doubtless members of the committee familiar with all the facts. Respectfully submitted,
>
> A. H. TANNER, City Attorney.

The bill evoked some discussion, and doubt was thrown on the question of Beno & Co. having sustained $182 75 damages as claimed. There was known to be an error in one item of $100. Finally the bill was disallowed.

RESTORING STREETS.

An opinion was read from City Attorney Tanner, in which he states that ordinances No. 2839 and 4092, which required bonds from persons digging up the street for laying gas and water mains, did not apply to the committee. The council, he thought, ought to impose conditions and make regulations, but this will require additional legislation.

The clerk was instructed to furnish a copy of this opinion to the superintendent of streets, with the information that the committee would restore the streets as perfectly as possible.

MAINS WANTED IN THE WEST END.

A petition was received from J. Gaston and many other residents of King's and Johnson's first addition, calling attention to the fact that there is now no public water supply for domestic purposes and no protection from fire. They ask that the Jefferson street main be extended to some point near the intersection of West Salmon and King.

A similar petition was presented by Mrs. Sherlock and others, asking for service on B street between North Eighteenth and North Twenty-first.

The petitions elicited the information that a new reservoir on higher ground than the Eighth street reservoir must be built to accommodate these sections.

Col. Fleischner suggested that sooner or later a reservoir would have to be built in the park, and the committee might as well build a small one there and supply water to the people living on the hills.

The petitions were referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Corbett and F. C. Smith.

The bill of the Portland Water company for $293 50 for "extras" during January was not allowed.

A CRIMINAL FAMILY.

AN ILLICIT RELATION BEGUN IN PORTLAND ENDS IN MURDER IN NEVADA.

The following from the Virginia City (Nev.) Enterprise of March 25 contains a reference to persons who will be remembered by some of our old citizens:

> The preliminary examination of L. J. Moore, charged with the murder of his daughter, Alice, at Glendale, Washoe county, two years ago, was commenced in the court of Justice Young at Reno, at 1 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon.
>
> The state was represented by District Attorney Evans and the defendant by Judges King and Webster.
>
> The first witness was the reputed wife, Mrs. Laura A. Moore, a woman 62 years of age, with silvered hair. She stated how, some twenty-five years ago, she ran away from her husband, Wm. Blackstone, to whom she was married in Portland, Or., in April, 1853, and went with Moore to Vancouver, W. T. They afterward lived as man and wife at Walla Walla, W. T.; Yreka, Cal.; Humboldt county, this state; Portland, Or.; The Dalles, Or.; Silver City, Idaho, and some five years ago they came to Glendale township, Washoe county, where they have since lived. During those years she bore five children to Moore, the oldest of which is 22 years.
>
> The Reno Gazette thus reports the legal proceedings in the justice's court:
>
> District Attorney—How did you come to run away with Mr. Moore? Answer—He coaxed me away. He said he had a good home for me, and I found he had none.
>
> Question—During all these years that you lived with Moore, was the marriage ceremony between he and you ever performed? Answer—I do not know of any. He always said I was not his wife. There was some kind of a ceremony performed the night I ran away with him. It was by a Methodist minister.
>
> Q.—How long did you live with Blackstone. A.—Seven years.
>
> When the Gazette went to press Mrs. Moore was engaged in telling the court how Alice was killed on the night of April 1, 1885. She said Moore had been shearing sheep and did not come home until about 8 o'clock; that he whipped Alice brutally, then ate his supper; that while eating, Alice said it was the last whipping he would ever give her; that after finishing his supper he knocked her down and fell upon his knees upon her breast; that the girl cried for help, and her brother, Lafayette, going to her relief, was knocked aside; that the witness ran out of doors and cried for help; that afterwards she entered the kitchen, where the act was committed, and found Alice dying.

A Quick Recovery.

It gives us great pleasure to state that the merchant who was reported being at the point of death from an attack of Pneumonia, has entirely recovered by the use of DR. WM. Naturally he feels grateful for the benefits derived from using this remedy, for the lungs and throat; and in giving publicity to this statement we are actuated by motives of public benefaction, trusting that others may be benefited in a similar manner.

No matter where he spends the winter James always turns up at the beginning of the salmon season and his friends are of the opinion that when he goes to an undiscovered country from which no cannery-man has ever yet returned he will set an example by coming back when the canning season commences.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

NOT A GOOD DUMPING GROUND.—Complaint is made that for some time past parties have been dumping all kinds of refuse matter at the south side of B street at the intersection of North Nineteenth. The residents of that neighborhood are very much annoyed by the strong odors arising from this pile of garbage and desire to have the nuisance abated. They claim that it not only endangers the health of the people residing in that vicinity, but that it also depreciates the value of their property. They have called the attention of the proper authorities to the matter and have been promised that the dumping of refuse at that place hereafter will be put a stop to. The owner of the property is a wealthy resident of the city, who may not be aware that the city can not only put a stop to this matter of creating a nuisance, but can compel the owner of the property to remove the refuse already deposited, or, in case of his refusing to do so, can abate the nuisance, and the expense of so doing will become a lien upon the property. There has been too much time wasted by councilmen in looking for a dumping ground for refuse to justify them in allowing any one to establish a private dumping ground in the center of the city.

MRS. NICKERSON GRANTED A DIVORCE.—The New York Times of the 23d inst. prints among its Washington dispatches the following item which will interest many in Portland where the parties are well known. "Emma C. D. Nickerson was to-day granted a divorce from her husband, Major Azor H. Nickerson, with the custody of her children, and permission to resume her maiden name. The grounds for the divorce were adultery and cruelty. It appeared from the evidence that while Mrs. Nickerson was abroad her husband procured a divorce in Philadelphia by fraud, and was married again in Baltimore to a Washington lady. Upon Mrs. Nickerson's return she had the Philadelphia divorce set aside, and began proceedings for a divorce in this city. The Philadelphia court had in the meantime indicted the major for fraud and perjury. These matters coming to the attention of the war department a court martial was ordered, but Major Nickerson forestalled action on its part by departing for Canada where he still remains. His counsel admitted that his wife was entitled to the divorce, and Judge Merrick granted it willingly."

ONIONS 6000 MILES TO MARKET.—It was announced a few days since in these columns that the bottom had fallen out of the potato and onion market in San Francisco. A letter received from there yesterday states that the tumble was caused by receipts of onions from Australia, and potatoes from St. Louis and Salt Lake. This world is getting almost too small to live in comfortably when Australian onions compete with Oregon onions in the San Francisco markets, and that town is flooded with Missouri potatoes at rates lower than paid for potatoes here. Those who growl because early cabbage, lettuce and radishes are brought up here from California may console themselves with the spectacle of California importing potatoes and onions from Missouri and Australia, and wonder why the farmers of that state, with their boasted soil and climate, do not raise their own vegetables. It may be remarked right here in regard to our potato market, that the decline in California appears to have nothing to do with the case, for retail dealers here charge $1 20 per bushel for Burbanks, and never take a cent less.

RAPIDLY SETTLING UP.—A gentleman, who has lately traveled over the Ames, Chapel and Scholl's ferry roads and that part of Washington county which is contiguous to these roads, for the first time in several years, says he was much astonished and pleased to notice how rapidly that section is being settled up and the timber cleared off. The settlers are principally Scandinavians and Germans, who are satisfied with small farms, thirty to forty acres being usually about what they buy, and some have settled on fifteen acres. Three or four of them join sometimes and buy a claim and divide it up among themselves. They are workers, and sober, steady men, and the tall timber is disappearing before them like snow drifts before the March sun in Oregon. These sturdy, thrifty settlers who want no more land than they can and will cultivate well, will make the country look like a garden, and it will not be many years till Portland will be in the midst of a fertile and beautiful agricultural country instead of being surrounded by primeval forests.

MARBLE QUARRY.—A discovery of marble has been made in Eastern Oregon, which is attracting considerable attention and promises to equal in importance anything of the kind yet brought to light in this country. The marble referred to is a superior quality of grey limestone, which, polished, makes a beautiful marble. A piece of this marble worked and polished can be seen in the New York Jewelry store. The ledge, or that portion of it in sight, is said to be over fifty feet thick and can be traced for over 1000 feet, making a very large deposit. The rock has also been tested for lime and found good for that purpose. The property is located by Mr. E. H. Johnson, of the Pacific Express company, and lies in Baker county, near Huntington, Or., within a short distance of the O. R. & N. railroad, which can be easily developed. Mr. Johnson has associated with him C. A. Gove and John Harley, of this city, and will at once push forward this new enterprise.

POOR WEATHER FOR FISHING.—The cold, chilling rain of yesterday has set all the small trout streams booming again and the trout to exploring the deep pools, very much to their own well being, for to-day is the "1st," and trout may be caught with impunity. Great preparations had been made by the craft, quantities of bait, salmon roe, angle worms and artificial flies had been gotten ready. Every fish market in the city has been ransacked for the dirty, but killing salmon roe, and probably every stream within twenty-five miles would have been lined with fishermen eager to be the first, and as they fondly hoped, the most successful. To-day, also, every restaurant in town will advertise mountain trout on their cards, and the enthusiasts who, unable to go fishing, orders a mess of brook trout for his supper as being the next best thing, will eat just what he did last week, only it was labeled salmon trout then.

THE FLOWER THIEF ABROAD.—By common consent it is generally considered that the meanest fellow alive is the individual who is too stingy to subscribe for a newspaper and who regularly steals his neighbor's. Next in degree comes the man who will deliberately cheat and defraud a poor widow with six small children. The third meanest fellow is the flower thief. Vancouver seems to be afflicted with the latter class. Says the Independent Wednesday: "Grave-robbers have already commenced digging up and carrying off bulbs and plants from graves in the city cemetery. This is about the lowest, meanest trick a human being can be guilty of in the way of stealing, and a coat of tar and feathers the proper punishment."

IMMIGRATION FROM SAN FRANCISCO.—A large number of immigrants, probably 250, who had arrived by steamer and rail within the past day or two, left yesterday for Eastern Oregon and Washington. Mr. Hansen, of the Northern Pacific, sent thirty-four down the river, mostly Scandinavians, who will take up claims along the Columbia, fish in the summer and clear their farms in the winter. The Northern Pacific has two men in San Francisco securing a share of the immigrants now there looking for locations, and it is expected that they will send up several thousand. The emigrants now on the way are well-dressed, thrifty-looking people, who bring along a liberal allowance of young ones to grow up with the country. And still there is room.

THE BRIDGE.—Work on the draw of the Morrison street bridge is being pushed with an energy which promises an early completion of that important structure. On the south side of the first span next to Front street, near the point where the draw-swing will rest, a small house is being built. This will be occupied as a news stand and also be used by the ticket collector, who will be stationed at the western end of the bridge. The superintendent of the bridge will also have a small office for his own personal accommodation. This office will soon be built, and is to stand about midway of the western approach—just where the two roadways meet.

VERDICT OF $1.—In state circuit court, department No. 1, yesterday, Thomas H. Elliott got a verdict against L. P. W. Quimby for $1. Elliott worked as hotel runner for Quimby for eleven months, as he alleges, on the agreement that he was to receive $40 a month for his services. Of this Elliott claims he was paid $220 40, leaving a balance of $219 60. Quimby refused to pay this, so suit was commenced to recover. During the trial yesterday Quimby made out that he contracted to pay Elliott but $25 a month, and submitted books showing he had paid him $17 00 more than was coming to him. This, of course, plaintiff denied.

TABLE ORNAMENT.—The latest thing in the way of decoration for the dinner table is a group of jack snipe mounted on a stand decorated with grasses, in which the handsome little long-bills are apparently endeavoring to conceal themselves. These groups are much prettier and less expensive than the old-fashioned epargne, and while the guests are striving to masticate a tough turkey or a hunk of blue beef they can be feasting their eyes on the snipe. Quite a number of these groups have been sent to San Francisco on orders from parties there.

INDEFINITELY POSTPONED.—Yesterday, in Judge Stearns's court, the case of Frank Lynch was called for trial, and indefinitely postponed on account of the absence of Young, one of the principal witnesses from Seattle. The reason of Mr. Young's failure to show up was given out that his wife was sick. In view of the postponement of Lynch's case, that of E. S. Skinner, set for to-day, was also continued. This is the foot race, wherein the winner failed to get the purse.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.—At the annual meeting of the Portland Seaman's Friend society, held this week, the resignation of Chaplain R. S. Stubbs as general superintendent of the work in this field, was accepted. Chaplain Stubbs came to Portland ten years ago, and his energetic, untiring, faithful work on behalf of the men of the sea is too well known to need restating. In his new field on Puget sound he will continue like labors in the same cause.

RISE IN FREIGHT RATES.—On account of the anticipated rise in eastern freight rates, and their rapidly increasing trade Wilzfusel Bros. & Co., corner Front and Pine streets, have 200,000 of their popular New York White Union labor and Key West cigars en route to arrive in a few days. Dealers that want an excellent and quick selling article will consult their own interest by calling on them. Country orders will receive prompt and careful attention.

P. R. A. MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Portland Rowing association will be held in the club boathouse, foot of Stark street, next Monday, April 4, at 7 P. M. The business to be transacted is the election of officers and a board of directors for the ensuing year, and the consideration of a proposition to increase the capital stock of the association and other important matters.

FIGURES CORRECTED.—In a local article yesterday on wool freights two errors in figures occurred. The rate for wheat to Liverpool should have read 30 shillings, not dollars; and the total of expense for shipping wool from Portland via Cape Horn to New York should have read $30 90 per ton, not $10 00. The errors were obvious.

NEW TOWBOAT.—The North Pacific Lumbering company have let the contract for a sternwheel towboat, 140 feet long and of 24 feet beam. She will be of about the same power as the Multnomah, and will be one of the finest tugs on the river. The contract for the hull has been let to J. F. Steffen, and the machinery will be supplied by the Willamette Iron Works. The North Pacific Lumbering company sell most of their lumber East, and from the fact that they have ordered this new tug it seems that they are not scared by the interstate commerce law, and have no fears of its spoiling their trade.

APPOINTMENTS MADE.—Gov. Pennoyer has made, during the past few days, the following appointments: C. D. Folger, Portland; O. M. Scott, Grant; N. K. Frazer, Alba; Fred A. Daly, Portland; S. B. Greene, Portland; W. G. Todd, Mitchell, Crook county; John West, Westport, Clatsop county; J. W. Mack, Prairie City, as notaries public; commissioner of deeds, Charles D. Wheat, 501 California street, San Francisco.

LIQUOR, NOT INSANITY.—Miles Doran, the old man from Kansas, arrested Wednesday for insanity, is still confined in the city jail. The county judge, on looking into the case, came to the conclusion that it was only one of too much beer, and ordered that Doran be given a chance to brace up. Doran, when at large, accuses almost every one he meets of having spirited away his two daughters.

RESISTING TAXES.

ARGUMENTS IN THE CASE OF THE O. AND W. MORTGAGE SAVINGS BANK AGAINST THE COUNTY.

The cases of the Oregon and Washington Mortgage Savings Bank of Oregon vs. Multnomah county were argued before Judge Shattuck yesterday by N. D. Simon and J. M. Bower. First, on a demurrer to the complaint to the dismissal of an injunction; and second, on a motion to dismiss petition and to affirm the judgment of the county court. In 1885 the Oregon and Washington Savings bank proceeded by injunction to enjoin the sheriff and the county from selling property to collect delinquent taxes amounting to $62,600, on the ground that their indebtedness exceeded that amount and they should not have been assessed at all. In this case it was set up yesterday by attorney Simon that the only remedy of the bank was by writ of review and not by injunction.

This year the Oregon & Washington Mortgage Savings bank object to paying taxes on $70,705 93, claiming they owe their depositors $101,963 14, and, therefore, have more indebtedness than property. Mr. Simon, as attorney for the county, on the other hand claims that the bank has this $101,963 14 on hand, and that offsets their right to claim it as an indebtedness, and consequently $70,705 93 is a net valuation of the bank's property. Also that the residence of depositors or creditors not having been given by the bank, as required by the statute, the indebtedness should not be allowed. Judge Shattuck will pass on the case sometime in the near future.

The county judge and board of equalization have already decided that the bank should pay.

THE WORK TOO HARD.

AN INDIAN COMPLAINING OF HIS LOT, JUST LIKE A WHITE MAN.

The spread of civilization, or, what is generally admitted to amount to the same thing, the increase of white population, is gradually wiping out the aboriginal inhabitants of this country. But while the untutored red man is passing away, his pathway to the indefinite hence is smothered by the chickamin of the paleface, who pays liberally for the fish and game which he desires. An Indian who has his illahe down on the Cowlitz was seen by a reporter in a game market yesterday, where he was collecting his pay for 16 mallard ducks 19 widgeons and 27 teal, as well as some smelt and a box of trout.

"He must be a good hunter and fisherman?" said the reporter.

"Yes," said the dealer, "he makes hiyu money."

"I'd like to make some money," said the Indian; "but ammunition costs too much."

"But don't you shoot three or four ducks at a clatter?" asked the reporter.

"No; me shoot 'em flying, and miss too often."

"But it don't cost anything to catch trout," continued the reporter.

"No. My boy sit on bank this morning and catch four dozen. But take me all night to catch six bushel smelt. Some dips I get twenty; some only four or five."

As the old fellow slid a handful of dollars in his breeches pocket and walked off, he said: "Too much work; too much ammunition; no money in shooting or fishing."

SMASHING A SALOON.

HOW A NOTORIOUS HOODLUM AMUSED HIMSELF AT HENRY ROTHE'S EXPENSE.

Charley McLaughlin was tried before Justice Tuttle yesterday on a charge of defacing a building at Sixteenth and Jefferson streets occupied by Henry Rothe as a saloon, and had an examination for assaulting Rothe with a cobblestone. On the first charge McLaughlin was sent up for 125 days, and held to answer before the grand jury on the other, with bonds fixed at $500. Rothe stated that at a quarter to 12 o'clock Tuesday morning McLaughlin came to his saloon for beer, and he refused him because he had enough. McLaughlin hit him with a razor-strap, cutting his ear. Rothe threw him down, and Charley got up and, going outside, procured a lot of rocks and smashed the whole front of the saloon in, winding up with throwing a couple of beer kegs through the glass doors. He then turned his attention to the inside, and, after breaking all the whisky bottles and glasses chased Rothe out into the yard with a beer faucet. Rothe, with the assistance of a man named Cody, then overpowered McLaughlin and tied him down. Antone Maudens and one O'Connor then appeared on the scene and gave McLaughlin his liberty. Charley again commenced on the wreck, and kept at it until he wore himself out. He can now repent at leisure.

AN UNBUSINESS-LIKE TRANSACTION.

POLICE ASSISTANCE CALLED IN ON A MATTER OF UNSATISFACTORY PAY.

Early last evening the telephone rang at the police station for an officer to go to to the corner of Fourth and Washington streets. Policeman Myers responded to the call, and on reaching the spot found a man and woman engaged in a hot argument with a tailor. It appears the woman went to the tailor shop to get a cloak she left to be repaired, and the charges on the same amounted to $10. She asked for and had the garment wrapped up, and passed it to the man who accompanied her, and he stepped outside. To pay the tailor she tendered him 50 cents and an order for $9 50. The order was executed by a woman who claims the tailor owes her this sum for labor performed. This tailor declined to accept of the order from woman No. 1 signed by woman No. 2., and demanded his $10 in cash or the return of the cloak. The refusal of the parties to accede to this request is what caused the tailor to call a policeman. Officer Myers advised the parties to give the tailor back the cloak, and they did so. At this point in the proceedings the woman who gave the other the $9 50 order appeared on the scene, and together with the other two started out, as they said, to find a justice of the peace.

OLD LADY STOUT, OF NORTH BEACH, NO LONGER TO TERRORIZE SUMMER BOARDERS.

The large number of citizens of Portland and other places who spend their summer vacation at North Beach, will be rejoiced to learn that Mr. J. L. Stout, proprietor of the Sea View house, has been granted a divorce from Mrs. Stout, whom it would be a piece of glaring mendacity to call his "better half." She is gone, and guests at the Sea View house will be terrorized by her no more. As she is a lady, the only thing permissible to say about her is that she does not know how to run a hotel. The establishment will in future be conducted by Mr. Stout, who is a genial, accommodating gentleman, and will make his house a popular place of resort. No more will guests be taken by the shoulder and forced to sit just where they do not want to at table, no more will they be compelled to eat flannel cakes when they desire hot toast, or drink coffee when they wish tea. Life at the beach this summer will be well worth living, and there will be plenty of fish at the rocks and every tide will be a crab tide, and most of the crabs will be soft shells.

THE STAGE.

MACALLISTER.—To-night Prof. J. M. Macallister, the world renowned magician, will make his first appearance at the New Market theater. He performs some of the most wonderful illusions, some of them seeming impossible. The Chicago Tribune says: "Macallister is superior to Heller, Blitz or Hermann. He does everything with perfect ease and never slips up."

TREBELLI AND MUSIN.—Monday and Tuesday will be the last chance to hear these great artists. They will return to Europe immediately upon their return to New York, and probably never return to this country. We may safely say that rarely, if ever, had we among us two artists who have roused the public to such a genuine enthusiasm as Trebelli and Musin have done in their concerts last Monday and Tuesday. As Trebelli will appear in scenes from grand opera, she can develop new powers, and appear even to much greater advantage. The programmes show an entire change.

SUIT BETWEEN DAIRYMEN.

E. Burhes has commenced suit in the state circuit court against M. Markovitch and Christine Markovitch. Plaintiff for cause of action avers that he and the defendants jointly own fourteen cows, a bull, a lot of milk cans, some horses and other appurtenances used in conducting a dairy business. Plaintiff further states that he owns the land where these cows, etc., are kept, and his agreement with defendants was that he receive half of the profits of the dairy, but that they have failed to account to him. He therefore asks that the cows, horses, cans and other articles be sold at the expense of the defendants, and that he receive half of the proceeds; and also that the court direct them to make an accounting.

DRESS WELL.

Consult a tailor of experience when you desire to appear in a becoming manner. In this regard the Portland Tailoring Parlors, 81 Morrison street, offers the very latest patterns, and the cutters, G. Neimyer and C. H. Lane, have a reputation among the best.

FIGHT TO A FINISH.

TWO STRANGERS FROM DAKOTA MAKE THINGS LIVELY AROUND AN UP-TOWN HOTEL.

An OREGONIAN reporter, who emulated the early bird yesterday by coming down town a little before noon, was appropriately rewarded by picking up a worm in the shape of a prize fight, of which he was the only spectator. He was standing on the rear platform of a First street car, smoking his post prandial Havana, imported from Manila at five for a quarter, when, as the car was passing the Metropolis hotel, he saw two men, the only occupants of the office or common sitting room, leap from their chairs and commence hammering away at each other like a couple of prize fighters. Of course he immediately alighted from the car and rushed in to see the fray.

One of the fighters was a short, thick-set young man, and the other resembled the man in the anecdote, who said he was a little man and an old man. The small elderly man displayed great muscular energy and activity, and danced around his opponent like a cooper around a barrel, raining down his blows in showers and forcing the young man backward around the room. The young fellow made the best defense he could, but was finally backed through a door into the adjoining room, as he went getting in a blow which laid the old man on his back. Then the reporter, from a safe distance, strove to pour oil on the troubled waters, and the landlady came in by a side door, looking very much shocked. The fighters, seeming to have had their satisfy, and emboldened by the presence of the landlady, the reporter braced up to them and wanted to know what they meant by this conduct. Then a somewhat stormy discussion of the casus belli followed, ending in the young man, who had a badly swollen cheek, from which the blood was trickling down, going to his room for repairs, while the old man, who was as smiling as a daisy, sat down to get his wind.

The two were immigrants, lately arrived from the same town in Dakota, coming on the same train. The trouble arose about a woman who was on the train, and was owing to the different opinions entertained in certain matters by old and young men. The old man had said that the woman in question had not conducted herself on the trip with proper modesty. The young man said she had conducted herself like a lady. The old man said he did not think so and, moreover, some one had told him that she was no better than she should be. The young man said that no one had said anything of the kind and that the man who insulted a lady insulted him, and was no gentleman. And then the fight began. "Well," said the reporter to the old man, "you had the best of it, till you went down by the door." "Oh, my foot slipped there," said the old man, and he added, "if I was as I used to be, I could lick two like him." The fact of the thermometer going 40 degrees below zero in Dakota don't seem to cool the blood of the residents there, and if there are many immigrants coming in from there, there is evidently fun ahead.

Mr. Thomas Corbett will move his boring machine to Vancouver to-day, and commence work on his contract with the government to sink an artesian well at the garrison. When the well is finished he will return and go to work on the Ladd well.

Last evening as a young man by the name of Guthrie was walking along the railroad track toward the O. & C. depot three tramps stepped up to him and made a demand for cash; but the young man bluffed them off and went for an officer. They made off before the officer came.

ANOTHER ASSAULT ON THE CZAR.

The Government Strikes out an Important Clause in the Coercion Bill—The Queen—A Bill to Buy out Irish Landlords.

A LETTER FROM STANLEY

He Complains of the Inactivity of the British.

LONDON, March 31.—A letter has been received from Stanley, dated Cape Town, March 9. He expresses bewilderment at the constant evidences he sees of the British yielding and shrinking in Africa before the noise, bluster and mock heroics. He says France and Portugal have strode with audacious and frantic haste to exclude British trade. "Now I come to Zanzibar and find that the British fleet has given way to the German, and that German orders outnumber the British. There is an aggressiveness about Germans that is ominous. Their manner is haughty and overbearing, and carries the air of supreme independence, while the British affect supreme indifference. I found Tippoo Tib, the uncrowned king, in the region between Stanley falls and Tanganyika lake, commanding thousands of fighting Arabs. He was equally ready to fight or be employed. I chose the latter, not with a view of helping him reach Emin Bey, but to assist in bringing away Emin's store. In the presence of the British consul I contracted with Tippoo Tib to supply me with 600 carriers. I also, after receiving consent from King Leopold, appointed Tippoo governor of Stanley Falls at a regular salary. He guarantees to defend the station against the Arabs and defeat and capture all persons raiding for slaves, and to abstain from engaging in the slave traffic himself below Stanley Falls. A European officer will be appointed, who is a resident of Stanley Falls, to insure adherence to the contract and stop Tippoo's salary on any breach of engagement. So far there has been no hitch in the expedition, everybody showing utmost sympathy, and our difficulties have been smoothed by the prevailing good feeling. I have sent a letter to Emin Bey, giving him the probable date of our arrival. Tippoo Tib has ordered his people to concentrate at Stanley Falls, to be in readiness for marching."

THE CZAR SENTENCED.

Another Attempted Assassination of the Czar Confirmed.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The Star's Berlin special says: "They are hunting the Czar close, and he may soon end his race. Dispatches received from other sources, at a late hour, confirm the report telegraphed from St. Petersburg that a well planned and desperate attempt had been made to kill the Czar. The Nihilists say that the Czar has been banished to Gatschina, which is now his prison, and a prison so large that he cannot escape. They declare that they have sentenced him to death and that his death is only a question of time.

THE QUEEN TRAVELING.

LONDON, March 31.—Queen Victoria's arrival at Cannes has been delayed a day by the accident to the train conveying her thither. It was discovered last night that the springs of the railway coach occupied by her majesty were heated. The discovery was made when the train reached Laroche. Her majesty's carriage was here stopped and it was decided to await daylight before proceeding. This morning the queen was removed to another carriage and continued her journey. She will reach Cannes to-morrow. The British men-of-war Thunderer, Colossus, Agamemnon and Dreadnaught, with the Duke of Edinburgh and Prince George of Wales on board, will be at anchor in the bay at Cannes awaiting the queen's arrival.

OBJECTIONS TO THE IRISH BILL REMOVED.

LONDON, March 31.—The cabinet have decided to abandon the clause of the Irish criminal law amendment bill, which provides for changing of venue from Dublin to London in certain classes of criminal trials, thus practically removing the greatest cause of the liberal-unionist opposition to the bill.

The national liberal federation has issued a summons for a meeting to be held April 6 for the purpose of denouncing the proposed Irish coercion measures.

BILL TO PURCHASE IRISH HOLDINGS.

LONDON, March 31.—In the house of lords to-night, Earl Cardigan, conservative, presented a bill providing for the purchase of Irish holdings, or in other words for the abolition of the system of ownership created by the act of 1881. Lease holders, whose leases expired prior to 1881 (numbering 150,000), were to be admitted to the benefits of the act of 1881 in the same manner as those whose leases expired in that year.

THE CHURCH AND THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

BALTIMORE, March 31.—A special from Rome gives the following text of a letter from Cardinal Manning, regarding the Knights of Labor, to a prominent divine of that city:

ARCHBISHOP'S HOUSE, WESTMINSTER,
LONDON, March 11.

My Dear Lord: I have read with great assent Cardinal Gibbon's document in relation to the Knights of Labor. The holy see, I am sure, will be convinced by his exposition of the state of the new world. I hope it will open a new field of thought and action. It passes the understanding that officious persons should be listened to rather than church officers. Surely the episcopate of the whole world is the most powerful and direct instrument in the hands of the holy see for gathering correct local knowledge and enforcing its decisions. Who can know the temper of America, England and Ireland as they who have their finger upon the pulse of the people? Hitherto the world has been governed by dynasties. Henceforth the holy see will have to deal with the people, and it has bishops in close duty and personal contact with the people. Never at any time has the episcopate been so detached from civic power and united in itself, and so it will be able to see, to realize and to use its powers. Its failure to see and use these powers will breed much trouble and mischief. My thanks are due the cardinal for letting me share in the argument. If I can find a copy of my lecture, "Dignity and the Rights of Labor," I will send it to him. It will, I think, qualify me for knighthood in the order. Brentano, some years ago, published books on guilds, in which he proves that the association of labor and crafts goes back to antiquity, but there is this notable fact in English and Teutonic laws: They recognize the charter. In the imperial and Latin laws they are rigorously prohibited. We are at this day a church, the mother, friend and protector of the people. As the Lord walked among them, so his church lives among them. The cardinal's argument is irresistible.

Your affectionate servant in Christ,
HENRY EDWARD,
Cardinal, Archbishop of Westminster.

HARRISON WANTS THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION TOO.

CHICAGO, March 31.—When the nominating committee assembled this evening Carter Harrison, and for the third time, declined the nomination outright, but, before resuming his seat, said that if the republicans would withdraw Roche and put on their ticket Carter Harrison he would beat Nelson by 30,000 votes and thus save the city from a socialist mayor, as the papers choose to style him. "You cannot ask Harrison to lead a forlorn hope," cried the mayor. "When Harrison runs he runs to win, but not to elect Mr. Roche. If the citizens of Chicago, irrespective of party, should say to him to run he would do so." Harrison then left the room. A member of the committee then moved to appoint an executive committee of five to confer with the representatives of citizens' organizations, should one develop. The motion was carried, and the democracy adjourned sine die.

BEN ALI'S AILMENT.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The Sporting World in its editorial says: Our Monmouth park letter contains very bad news for the admirers of Ben Ali. I don't suppose there were a dozen persons outside of Haggins's stable aware of the fact that the colt bled several times last fall, and that was the reason why he was not raced late in the fall. There is no doubt of its truth. Of course the colt has had good preparation for one thus afflicted, but very rarely have such animals been able to forego the severe work necessary to prepare them for a race like the Suburban. This trouble ailed Joe Cotton last year. It can be alleviated, but very rarely cured. I am compelled to state that the chances against Ben Ali's winning the Suburban are strengthened 50 per cent. He is looking and doing very well at present, but as he has had no really strong work his trouble has no chance to show itself. The stable's hopes depend entirely upon Guenn.

CHOLERA IN TEXAS.

ST. LOUIS, March 31.—The El Paso (Texas) Republican's special says quarantine was instituted to-day against cholera. The disease has traveled northward in South America until it has reached the isthmus of Panama and it is feared that Mexican trains may bring it into the United States. All persons, baggage and freight from infected points will be denied admission. All mail from cholera infected points will be disinfected before received into United States points.

ENFORCING THE OLEOMARGARINE LAW.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 31.—The court of appeals has affirmed the judgment of the general term, convicting Lipman Arensberg of selling oleomargarine in violation of the statute. ALLOTMENT OF OREGON LANDS TO INDIANS.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The president today directed the allotment of lands in severalty to the Indians on the Warm Spring reservation in Oregon. This is the first action taken under the Indian land severalty act which was passed by the last congress. Under its provisions the surveyor-general of Oregon will have to survey a sufficient quantity of land to give each head of a family 160 acres; to each single person over 18 years of age, 80 acres; to each orphan under 18 years of age, 80 acres, and to each other single person under 18 years of age, 40 acres. This distribution is made to male and female alike. Each Indian will receive a patent to his land, which shall be of legal effect and declare that the United States will hold the land thus allowed for a period of twenty-five years in trust for the sole use and benefit of the Indian or his heirs. At the expiration of this period the United States will convey the land in fee.

THE HOLDOVER POSTMASTER.

CHICAGO, March 31.—A Washington special says: Postmaster-General Vilas has directed that a list be made of all presidential postmasters who were appointed under the last administration, together with any facts connected with unchanged postmasters and their offices, to be placed on file in the department. A force of clerks is at work compiling this information and it will be sent to the president in a few days, or as soon as it is ready. At the postoffice it is believed that the object of securing this matter is to make changes during the summer, and there are those who say that the president, acting under the authority given him by the repeal of the tenure of office act, will remove every republican in presidential postoffices. A glance at the list as far as completed discloses the fact that there are very few republicans in presidential postoffices, not more than five per cent. of the entire number.

FAIRCHILD TO GET THE SECRETARYSHIP.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—It is announced that the following appointments will be made to-morrow: Secretary-treasury, Charles S. Fairchild, of New York; assistant secretary-treasury, Isaac H. Maynard, of New York. Mr. Maynard is the present second comptroller of the treasury, having been appointed to that position by President Cleveland on June 1, 1885. He has made an excellent record in that position. At the time of his appointment Judge Maynard was first deputy attorney-general of New York. Two years prior to his appointment to the federal service, he was the democratic candidate for secretary of state of New York, but was defeated, owing, it is said, to his prohibition record. His home is in Delhi, New York.

BOARD FOR LAND CONTESTS.

WASHINGTON, March 31. — Commissioner Sparks to-day issued an order creating a contest board, to which all contest cases now pending or hereafter arising in pre-emption and public land decisions shall be referred for examination and decision. After action is taken by this board upon contest case it will go to the board of review. The board is to consist of five members selected from the several divisions of the general land office.

"DR." HODGES FOUND GUILTY.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The trial of "Dr." James Hodges, the man who exploded a bomb in the grand opera house on the evening of the 9th of February during one of the Patti concerts, was begun this morning in department 12 of the superior court before Judge Murphy. Hodges testified that he had gone to the opera with the intention of ending his life while Patti was singing. He had taken the can of powder with him for that purpose and had placed screws in with the powder so that they might break into his skull and let out the spirit. He placed the screws in the can and called them his twelve apostles. He said he wanted to die while she was singing, so that he could be her page in the spirit land. He could not account for the presence of the bottle of turpentine, which he said was "bug-poison," except that he had unintentionally placed it in his pocket. "I exploded the powder beneath my coat," he said, "so that nobody else would get hurt." The jury brought in a verdict of guilty on a charge of assault to murder.

MURDER IN CHINATOWN.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Chinatown in this city was again a scene of murder late last night. Leong Sing, said to be a highbinder, entered a restaurant at 830 Washington street, kept by Leong Chun, and being refused some money demanded by him, he drew a revolver and fired at Chun. The bullet entered the latter's brain and he was carried to the receiving hospital and died there at 1 o'clock this morning. Sing fled immediately after the shooting and was not found until 2 o'clock this morning. He is now in prison, charged with murder.

Bolin was absent at the time. His wife was severely injured in trying to rescue the boys and is in a precarious condition. Two daughters who were in the house when the fire broke out escaped uninjured.

MRS. EMMA MOLLOY.

VANCOUVER, W. T., March 30.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

We regret to have seen in your paper an article and editorial notes thereon reflecting upon the judgment of our pastor, Rev. J. H. We wish to say that we authorized our pastor to employ Mrs. Molloy as he did; that her labor of love among us has been greatly blessed of God; that we are undivided in our faith in her Christian character and greatly rejoice in the blessed work done in our church.

VANCOUVER, W. T., March 29.

To whom it may concern: At a meeting of the session (ministers and ruling elders) of the Presbyterian church of Vancouver held on February 13, 1887, in the vestry of said church, the following minute was unanimously adopted in regard to the revival services that had been conducted during the preceding six weeks, the "chief speaker" at which meetings had been Mrs. Emma Molloy:

Inter alia: "Session also resolved to place on record our sense of gratitude for the gracious revival which has blessed our city in connection with the union meetings of this church and the M. E. church."—Extract from minutes of session, page 20.
JOHN T. STEWART, Clerk.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 27.

Rev. J. R. Thompson—Dear Sir:—Learning of the deep interest taken by you in Mrs. Emma Molloy, and that you desire a statement from me of the circumstances connected with the murder of Sarah Graham, by her husband, and of Mrs. Molloy's relation to it, I deem it my duty to write to you.

Mrs. Molloy was more than two hundred miles from here, holding public religious meetings when that horrid murder was committed. She left here twenty days before, and did not return till nearly three months afterward. No one doubts now that she did not have, and could not have had anything to do with it. The charge against her, and for which she was indicted, is for concealing Graham, knowing he had committed the murder. This charge is absolutely groundless. It is not a question of weight of evidence. There is absolutely no evidence at all of any knowledge on her part of the commission of the crime until after the body of the murdered woman was found the latter part of February, while the murderer was confined in prison, charged with another crime. At that time Mrs. Molloy was, and had been, for nearly two months, absent in Illinois, holding revival meetings. You naturally inquire how it could be possible that a grand jury could find an indictment against her without evidence. My answer is, that before her return from Illinois the saloon interest, which is very potent here, charged her with having planned the murder and managed its perpetration. They circulated numerous falsehoods connecting her name with it, and as soon as one could be exploded another was invented. In this way an intense mob feeling was created, which was led on by state's attorney, who became their willing tool. The magistrates who held the pretended preliminary examination were a part of the mob. The ruffianly conduct of the state's attorney was frequently applauded by the enraged mob, one of the magistrates at one time clapping his hands to start the mob. You ask how can it be that the respectable citizens of Missouri could be guilty of or suffer such conduct. I answer that it was not the respectable citizens who did it. In fact there were but few of that class present in the court room during the examination. The liquor interests and the roughs they controlled constituted the mob mainly.

It will be impossible for me to give you to fully understand what a Missouri mob in the interest of the liquor traffic is like. In one of the cities of Puritan Iowa, where the laws prohibit the traffic altogether, and where it is outlawed, it has had sufficient power to commit deliberate murder by an organized conspiracy; to conduct a mock inquest by public officers under its control and to defy every effort so far to bring the murderers to justice. If such things can be done in that state by the monstrous traffic, ought you to be surprised at its power in this state, where it is legalized through the instrumentality of a "Missouri mob," especially when the object of its vengeance is one who is guilty of the heinous crime of being a "woman, a temperance lecturer and a preacher?"

In fact, these are the real offenses for which she has been persecuted here. I have no doubt whatever of her innocence, and the religious and moral people of this city concur in this opinion.

The assaults upon Mrs. Molloy's reputation for chastity are equally groundless. They were a part of the scheme of the liquor interest to ruin her on account of her power as a worker in the cause of Christ and of temperance. They were based on statements extorted from George Graham while he was threatened with being lynched by the mob. To prolong his life a few days the cowardly wretch was induced to promise a confession implicating the ladies. In a few days he gave the public a paper charging that he had frequently committed adultery with both of them, but denied in it that they had anything to do with the murder or even knew of it. This did not satisfy the mob, and after further efforts to extort from him a statement implicating the women in the murder, without effect, the mob hung him. The circumstances referred to in his statement have been proven false. I am confident that these charges are utterly false and malignant, and the better classes of citizens of this city are as fully convinced of this opinion as I am. Mrs. Molloy is capable of doing a grand work for Christ, and all true Christians should stand by her and shield her from the malignant assaults of the rum power. Your brother in Christ,
JAMES BAKER.

REPLY TO "GOSPEL TEMPERANCE."

CORVALLIS, March 30.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I think "Gospel Temperance" would find it quite as much of a puzzle to prove from our English version even that fermented wine was used in bible times at the Lord's supper. At the institution, "the cup," "the fruit of the vine (Mat. xxvi: 27-29; Mark xiv: 23-25; Luke xxii: 17-18), the "cup," (I. Cor. xi: 25), the "cup of the Lord." (I. Cor. x: 21) is mentioned. That the Corinthians became "drunken" (I. Cor. xi: 21) while at the Lord's supper is an undue inference. In the first place many scholars, from the time of Clement of Alexandria, consider the Greek word methuo means to be plentifully full, or fed, as well as the other meaning. Besides, their agape, or love feast, generally preceding the sacred ordinance, they came to the latter in the state which the apostle denounces.

RAILROAD NOTES.

EXCESS BAGGAGE RATES.

CHICAGO, March 31.—At a meeting of the Western States Passenger association to-day it was decided to make a uniform charge on excess baggage with that adopted by the Eastern lines, namely, 12 per cent. All agreed to continue the second-class rates between Chicago and St. Paul, Minneapolis and Lake Superior points, and sell excursion tickets to the Pacific coast, adding thereto the usual excursion rates from Chicago, St. Louis, etc.

A special meeting of the Chicago Railroad association was held to-day to arrange for putting into Western rate sheets the differential passenger rates allowed the Chicago and Grand Trunk line. Heretofore only travelers buying tickets at Chicago could take advantage of the $1 50 less on a ticket over that road as outside agents are not allowed to quote the difference, but hereafter it will be available from all points West.

DEFICIT IN THE BUDGET.

A WRITER INFORMS THE PUBLIC!

That the secret of good health is to keep the skin in good working condition.

That to keep the skin in good working condition the pores must be kept open.

That a porous plaster is a plaster that opens the pores of the skin.

That the only plaster for opening the pores of the skin is Allcock's Porous Plaster.

That Allcock's Porous Plaster assists the body to throw off its burdensome ailments through the skin—the natural process of relief.

That every other so-called porous plaster is an inferior article which cannot be compared with Allcock's.

That Allcock's have stood the test for twenty-five years and have proved the best external remedy extant.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP
FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER,
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other.

FITS!
When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
